

LeMond Scholar

2018-2021

Jacklina is a quiet, dedicated student whose favorite subject is Science and who dreams of being a doctor one day. She takes every opportunity to help any students who are hurt or sick get to the nurse or teacher and feel better. She lives near Posta with her parents and four younger siblings. Her parents are both farmers and Jacklina and her sister Paskalina, who is in the same grade, will be the first in their family to attend Secondary School. She likes to read, study, and visit the national parks in Tanzania. Being a LeMond Scholar means that Jacklina will be able to study at night and through her success at school, she will be able to access great jobs and opportunities for her future.

Betuel

2018-2021

Ritha is a confident and focused student who loves to read storybooks, especially Cinderella. She lives in a home in Bluki with her two younger siblings and parents. When she isn't reading or studying, she enjoys visiting her family and friends and walking to new places. She is excited that being chosen as a LeMond Scholar will help her to make a better world for herself, not unlike the heroes in her stories.

Stella Masay

Stella is a quiet, hardworking student whose favorite hobby is reading. If Stella isn't exploring an adventure story book in the library, you can find her helping her classmates understand complex math problems. Math is her favorite subject, and her talent for working with numbers is exceptional!

Stella lives in the TEC region of Oldeani with her parents, brother, and two sisters. Her commute to school takes two hours each day, leaving her with little time to study and rest. Stella says living at the Hostel will give her the chance to study harder and pursue her dreams of becoming a primary school teacher!

Barikiana Wilson

Barikiana is a studious 14-year-old, with a curiosity for numbers and mathematics. In her free time, she enjoys reading her math textbooks and working to improve her problem-solving skills.

Barikiana is from the Kiran region, where she lives with her parents, brother, and three sisters. She explained that without this opportunity, she would need to travel over two hours to attend Oldeani Secondary School.

“It felt very good to receive this award, because I will now be studying with happiness to complete my dreams.”

Winniemarky Ingi

LeMond Scholar

2020-2023

Winniemarky was nominated unanimously by the Gyetighi Primary School teacher body to receive this scholarship.

Her intelligence and curiosity sets her apart from other students, especially in her favorite subject - Science. This year Winniemarky finished in the Top 10 of her class.

Winniemarky is a studious 14-year-old who lives in the TEC Coffee region with her grandmother, one sister, and three brothers. In the classroom, Winniemarky excels in multiple subjects, with a special talent for languages. She can often be found helping her classmates improve their English skills during or after school hours. We have no doubt that Winniemarky's natural caretaker ability will allow her to pursue her dreams of becoming a Doctor. In her free time, she likes to play and read storybooks with her friends.

Winniemarky says she is excited to live in the hostel because, "there are other smart students who can help me with my homework, reading, and when I get stuck on a difficult question." We can't wait to watch this young scholar continue her success at Oldeani Secondary School.

Vaileth Noel

LeMond Scholar

2020-2023

Vaileth is one of the brightest and most dedicated students in the Standard 7 class, so it was no surprise when she received the Outstanding Leadership award at Gyetighi's graduation. Vaileth lives in the TEC Coffee Region with her parents, one sister, and three brothers.

Vaileth's favorite subject is Mathematics because she loves the challenge of problem solving and learning how to use new formulas. She is a natural mentor to her fellow classmates and takes every opportunity to help her peers. When Vaileth grows up she would like to be a Teacher so she can work with children and continue helping others.

Vaileth lives about a 3-hour walk from Oldeani Secondary School. Being a LeMond Scholar will give her more time to focus on her studies and continue her academic success. Vaileth added, "living in the Hostel will allow me to learn with others so that we can share ideas."

Emelisiana Albert Hhando

LeMond Scholar 2021-2024

Emelisiana's smile is infectious. Constantly surrounded by her peers, Emelisiana is outgoing and a friend to all. Graduating in the top of her class at Gyetighi Primary School, Emelisiana is a dedicated student. Her favorite subject is English, and when she grows up she dreams of becoming a policewoman so that she can help enforce the law.

Emelisiana lives in the nearby community of Kilimani with five brothers and six sisters. The last child of twelve, Emelisiana is excited for the opportunity to attend Oldeani Secondary School because she wants to help her mother, a shopkeeper, support her family. She is grateful for the opportunity to join the Oldeani Scholarship Hostel Initiative, where she will have ample of time to study and focus on her schoolwork.

Emelisiana's passion is dancing, and she spends her free time learning traditional and Tanzanian pop dances. With a love of learning and a curious mind, Emelisiana will find great success at Oldeani Secondary School!

Fatuma Abdala Godson

LeMond Scholar

2021-2024

Fatuma is a natural leader. Elected Head Girl Prefect for all of Gyetighi Primary School, Fatuma is a role model and mentor to her peers. Unanimously chosen by Gyetighi teachers for the LeMond scholarship, Fatuma is not only bright, but also has a contagious positive attitude.

Fatuma lives in Bendu with her mom, three brothers and two sisters. She is eager to attend Oldeani Secondary School so that she can help her mother support her family. She is also excited to study close to school and live in an environment supportive of education. "Education is important for getting good work and helping develop the country," Fatuma explains.

Fatuma loves languages. Her favorite subjects are English and Kiswahili, and she hopes to one day teach these subjects at a primary or secondary school. We are impressed by Fatuma's work ethic and are thrilled to award her with the LeMond scholarship.
